
The Roman Forum and Palatine Hill

Roman

Forum - The oldest and most important structures of the ancient city are located here, including the temple of Saturn and the complex of the Vestal Virgins. Imagine Cicero or Mark Anthony walking to the Senate House or Rostra and picture Pliny in the Centumviral court. Palatine Hill - The most central of the Seven Hills of Rome is one of the most ancient parts of the city. See the ruins of the Imperial Palaces and the Hut of Romulus, as well as a great view of the Circus Maximus.

Basilica of St Paul Outside the Walls

According to tradition, Paul's body was buried 2 miles from the place of his martyrdom, in the sepulchral area along the Ostiense Way. During the 4th century Paul's remains, excluding the head, were moved into a sarcophagus.

Rome

The Eternal City

The catacombs: Forming an underground maze in the outskirts of the city, over 40 catacombs provide a glimpse into the world of early Christianity in the city. Along with the countless burial chambers that line the tunnels, the catacombs contain some of the earliest examples of Christian art.

St. Peter's Basilica: In Catholic tradition, this is the burial site of its namesake. Famous as a place of pilgrimage and for its historical associations. Like all the earliest churches in Rome, St Peter's has its entrance to the east and the apse at the west of the building.

Vatican Museum and Sistine Chapel: A truly memorable opportunity to view the Museums of the Vatican, which house a vast number of art and sculpture masterpieces in their 54 galleries.
